ARBITRATION AWARD

I, Anne Malone, the undersigned arbitrator, designated by the American Arbitration Association pursuant to the Rules for New York State No-Fault Arbitration, adopted pursuant to regulations promulgated by the Superintendent of Insurance, having been duly sworn, and having heard the proofs and allegations of the parties make the following AWARD:

Injured Person(s) hereinafter referred to as: EIP

1. Hearing(s) held on 12/16/2024
Declared closed by the arbitrator on 12/16/2024

Elyse Ulino, Esq. from Baker & Narkolayeva Law P.C. participated virtually for the Applicant

Dana Nolan, Esq. from Law Offices of John Trop participated virtually for the Respondent

2. The amount claimed in the Arbitration Request, $1,709.27, was NOT AMENDED at the oral hearing.
Stipulations WERE NOT made by the parties regarding the issues to be determined.
3. Summary of Issues in Dispute

The 29 year old EIP, reported involvement a motor vehicle accident on January 6, 2023; claimed related injury and received Oxycodone, Ondansetron, Docusate prescription medication on June 13, 2024 and Naproxen and Esomeprazole medication provided by the applicant on June 24, 2024.

The applicant submitted a claim for this prescription oral medication, payment of which was timely denied by the respondent based on the IME of the EIP by William Walsh, M.D. which was performed on June 21, 2023. The IME cut-off was effective on July 27, 2023.

The respondent also asserted a fee schedule defense for date of service June 13, 2024.

The issues to be determined at the hearing are:

Whether the respondent established that the prescription medication provided by the applicant was not medically necessary.

Whether the respondent established its fee schedule defense for one of the medications provided on June 13, 2024.

4. Findings, Conclusions, and Basis Therefor

This hearing was held on Zoom and the decision is based upon the documents reviewed from the Modria File as well as the arguments made by counsel and/or representative at the arbitration hearing. Only the arguments presented at the hearing are preserved in this decision; all other arguments not presented at the hearing are considered waived.

Medical Necessity

To support a lack of medical necessity defense respondent must "set forth a factual basis and medical rationale for the peer reviewer's [or examining physician's] determination that there was a lack of medical necessity for the services rendered." Provvedere, Inc. v. Republic Western Ins. Co., 2014 NY Slip Op 50219(U) (App. Term2d, 11th and 13th Jud. Dists. 2014.)

Respondent bears the burden of production in support of its lack of medical necessity defense, which if established shifts the burden of persuasion to applicant. See Bronx Expert Radiology, P.C. v. Travelers Ins. Co., 2006 NY Slip Op 52116 (App. Term 1st Dept. 2006.)

The Civil Courts have held that a defendant's peer review or report of medical examination must set forth more than just a basic recitation of the expert's opinion. The trial courts have held that a peer review or medical examination report's medical rationale will be insufficient to meet respondent's burden of proof if: 1) the medical rationale of its expert witness is not supported by evidence of a deviation from "generally accepted medical" standards; 2) the expert fails to cite to medical authority, standard, or generally accepted specifics as to the claim at issue, is conclusory or vague. See Nir v. Allstate, 7 Misc.3d 544 (N.Y. City Civ. Ct. 2005.)

To support its contention that the oral prescription medication provided to the EIP was not medically necessary, the respondent relied upon the report of the independent medical examination of the EIP by Dr. Walsh, which was objectively negative and unremarkable. Range of motion was determined with the assistance of a goniometer. The report presents a factually sufficient, cogent medical rationale in support of respondent's lack of medical necessity defense. Dr. Walsh performed a complete and comprehensive examination of the EIP which did not identify any objective positive findings and determined that his injuries were resolved.

Based upon the physical examination and medical records reviewed, Dr. Walsh determined that despite his subjective complaints, the EIP was not disabled and that he could perform his activities of daily living and working without limitations. It was Dr. Walsh's opinion that there was no medical necessity for further orthopedic treatment, physical therapy, massage therapy, surgery, injections, prescription medication, diagnostic testing, durable medical equipment, household help or special transportation.

Respondent has factually demonstrated that the services provided by the applicant were not medically necessary. Accordingly, the burden now shifts to the applicant, who bears the ultimate burden of persuasion. See Bronx Expert Radiology, P.C. v. Travelers Ins. Co., 2006 NY Slip Op 52116 (App. Term 1st Dept. 2006.)

In response to the report of the physical examination of the EIP by Dr. Walsh, the applicant relied upon the submissions, including the initial orthopedic consultation performed on April 5, 2023, follow-up reports on May 17, 2023, July 14, 2023 and August 16, 2023, which documented objective and subjective positive findings.

He received a lumbar epidural steroid injection on April 13, 2023 and left knee arthroscopy on June 13, 2024.

The applicant documented sufficient contemporaneous objective findings that warranted continued treatment after the IME cut-off date and has met the burden of persuasion in rebuttal. The medical records submitted meaningfully address the arguments that are raised in the IME report and are sufficient to overcome the burden of production established by the respondent.

Based on the foregoing, the respondent has failed to establish that the services at issue were not medically necessary.

Therefore, an award will be issued in favor of the applicant pursuant to the appropriate fee schedule.

Fee Schedule

To prevail in its fee schedule defense, the respondent must demonstrate by competent evidentiary proof that the applicant's claims are in excess of the appropriate fee schedule. If the respondent fails to do so, its defense of noncompliance with the New York Workers' Compensation Medical Fee Schedule cannot be sustained. See Continental Medical, P.C. v Travelers Indemnity Co., 11 Misc. 3d 145A (App. Term 1st Dept. 2006.)

An insurer fails to raise a triable issue of fact with respect to a defense that the fees charged were not in conformity with the Workers' Compensation fee schedule when it does not specify the actual reimbursement rates which formed the basis for its determination that the claimant billed in excess of the maximum amount permitted. See St. Vincent Medical Services, P.C. v. GEICO Ins. Co., 29 Misc.3d 141(A), 907 N.Y.S.2d 441 (App. Term 2d, Dec. 8, 2010.)

A fee schedule defense does not always require expert proof. There are two fee schedule scenarios. The first involves the basic application of the fee codes and simple arithmetic. The second scenario involves interpretation of the codes and often requires testimony and expertise beyond that of a lay individual. I find that the fee schedule issue presented in this case is analogous to the former scenario and does not require an expert opinion.

The applicant billed a total of $1,709.27 for prescription medication provided to the EIP on June 13, 2024 and June 24, 2024. The respondent denied payment for this claim for a lack of medical necessity. I have already determined that the respondent has not established this defense.

However, an issue remains regarding the charge of $5.32 for Docusate Sodium medication provided to the applicant on June 13, 2024. The respondent included in its submission a copy of the page in the Red Book which indicates that this medication is OTC and does not require a prescription.

The applicant did not submit any documentation to refute the respondent's evidence.

I will take judicial notice of the Red Book documentation.

Under these circumstances, the respondent has established its fee schedule defense for the charge of $5.32 for medication provided on June 13, 2024.

Accordingly, the applicant is awarded $1,703.95 in disposition of this claim.

Any further issues submitted in the record are held to be moot and/or waived insofar as they were not raised at the time of this hearing. This decision is in full disposition of all claims for no-fault benefits presently before this Arbitrator.

6. I find as follows with regard to the policy issues before me:

- ☐ The policy was not in force on the date of the accident
- ☐ The applicant was excluded under policy conditions or exclusions
- ☐ The applicant violated policy conditions, resulting in exclusion from coverage
- ☐ The applicant was not an "eligible injured person"
- ☐ The conditions for MVAIC eligibility were not met

Accordingly, the applicant is AWARDED the following:

A.

	eMed Pharmacy Corp.	06/24/24 - 06/24/24	$1,400.00	Awarded: $1,400.00

- B. The insurer shall also compute and pay the applicant interest set forth below. 06/26/2024 is the date that interest shall accrue from. This is a relevant date only to the extent set forth below.

Applicant is awarded interest pursuant to the no-fault regulations. See generally, 11 NYCRR §65-3.9. Interest shall be calculated "at a rate of two percent per month, calculated on a pro rata basis using a 30 day month." See 11 NYCRR §64-3.9(a). A claim becomes overdue when it is not paid within 30 days after a proper demand is made for its payment. However, the regulations toll the accrual of interest when an applicant "does not request arbitration or institute a lawsuit within 30 days after the receipt of a denial of claim form or payment of benefits" calculated pursuant to Insurance Department regulations. Where a claim is untimely denied, or not denied or paid, interest shall accrue as of the 30th day following the date the claim is presented by the claimant to the insurer for payment. Where a claim is timely denied, interest shall accrue as of the date an action is commenced or an arbitration requested, unless an action is commenced or an arbitration requested within 30 days after receipt of the denial, in which event interest shall begin to accrue as of the date the denial is received by the claimant. See, 11 NYCRR §65-3.9(c.) The Superintendent and the New York Court of Appeals has interpreted this provision to apply regardless of whether the particular denial was timely. LMK Psychological Servs. P.C. v. State Farm Mut. Auto. Ins. Co., 12 NY3d 217 (2009.)

C. Attorney's Fees

The insurer shall also pay the applicant for attorney's fees as set forth below

Applicant is awarded statutory attorney's fees pursuant to the no fault regulations. For cases filed after February 4, 2015 the attorney's fee shall be calculated as follows: 20% of the amount of first-party benefits awarded, plus interest thereon subject to no minimum fee and a maximum of $1,360.00. See 11 NYCRR §65-4.6(d.)

- D. The respondent shall also pay the applicant forty dollars ($40) to reimburse the applicant for the fee paid to the Designated Organization, unless the fee was previously returned pursuant to an earlier award.

This award is in full settlement of all no-fault benefit claims submitted to this arbitrator.
